

IMPROVING LITERACY ACROSS THE CURRICULUM

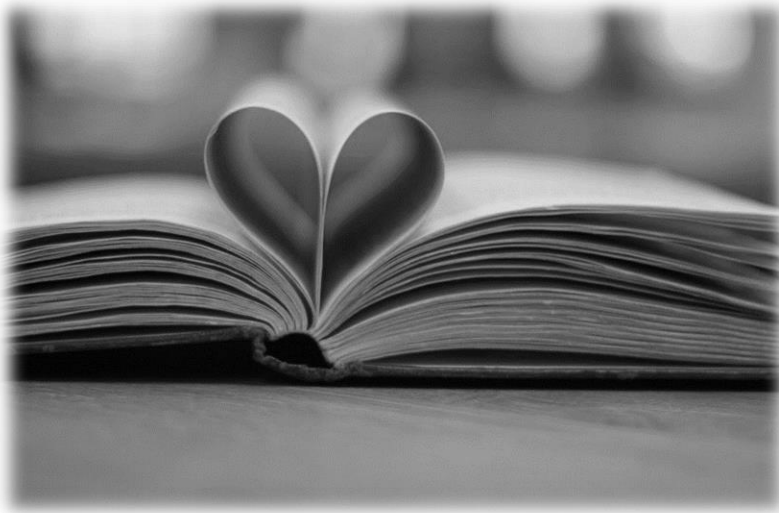

EMBEDDING A READING CULTURE

This workshop is designed to help schools support their staff to explicitly teach literacy within their subject in a way that makes sense in their specialism. It will explore the most relevant research, including cognitive science and suggest practical strategies that can be trialled in every classroom to raise standards. The focus of the day will be creating professional learning strategies at a senior leadership level that can be implemented across a number of subjects.

Outcomes

- Identification of the key literacy skills for each subject
- Contextualisation of literacy teaching strategies suitable for raising attainment in all subjects so that they suit your school and context.
- Understanding of relevant research to support literacy
- Creation of a strategic plan for staff development
